

ABSTRACT

This invention provides a system enabling the assembly and suspension of a plurality of line array loudspeakers where the splay angle between the adjacent speakers can be easily adjusted and rigidly maintained. This line array system utilizes rigging frames allowing for the coupling and supporting of the loudspeakers forming and rigidly maintaining a curvature in the line speaker array.

LosAngeles/51926.1
07/31/2001 11:03 AM

P007620 - 51926.1 00000